Credit Risk

The Company trades only with recognized, creditworthy third parties. It is the Company's policy that all customers who wish to trade on credit terms are subject to credit verifications procedures. In addition, receivable balance are monitored on an ongoing basis.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is defined as the risk the Company would not be able to settle or meet its obligations on time or at a reasonable price. Management is responsible for liquidity, funding as well as settlement management. The Company's objective is to maintain a balance between continuity of funding and flexibility by availing credit facilities from various suppliers. The Company mainly sources its funds from bank loans and payable to related parties.

Equity Price Risk

Equity price risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. The Company is exposed to equity price risk because of quoted financial assets held by the Company, which are classified on the financial statements of consolidated balance sheets as AFS financial assets.

Financial instruments

The Company's financial instruments consist of cash and due from/to related parties. The main purpose of the financial instruments is to fund the Company's operations. The Company has various other financial instruments such as receivables and accrued expenses and other payables which arise directly from its operations.

Financial instruments are recognized initially at fair value, which is the fair value of the consideration given (in case of asset) or received (in case of a liability). The initial measurement of financial instruments, except for those financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss (FVPL), includes transaction cost.

On initial recognition, the Company classifies its financial assets in the following categories: Held-for-Maturity (HTM) investments, AFS financial assets, and loans and receivables. The classification depends on the purpose for which the investments were acquired and whether they are quoted in an active market. Management determines the classification of its financial assets at initial recognition and, where allowed and appropriate, re-evaluates such designation at every financial reporting date.

Under PAS 39, all financial liabilities are recognized initially at fair value and in case of loans and borrowings, plus directly attributable transaction costs. Financial liabilities are classified as FVPL, loans and borrowings and derivatives designated as hedging instruments in an effective hedge, as appropriate.

Financial instruments are classified as liabilities or equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual agreement. Interest, dividends, gains and losses relating to a financial instrument or a component that is a financial liability are reported as expense or income. Distributions to holders of financial instruments classified as equity are charged directly to equity net of any related income tax benefits.

The Company's financial assets consist of loans and receivables and AFS investments. The Company's financial liabilities are classified as loans and borrowings. The Company has no financial assets and liabilities at FVPL and HTM investment.

The fair value of financial instruments that are actively traded in organized financial markets is determined by reference to quoted market bid prices at the close of business on the reporting date. For investments and all other financial instruments where there is no active market, fair value is determined by using generally accepted valuation techniques. Such techniques include using arm's length market transactions; reference to the current market value of another instrument, which are substantially the same; discounted cash flow analysis and other valuation models.

Corporate Information

Vulcan Industrial & Mining Corporation (The Company) was registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) on January 13, 1953. The Company was listed in the Philippine Stock Exchange on 1970.

The Company is involved in finding, developing and producing mineral properties.

The registered office address of the Company is at 6th Floor Quad Alpha Centrum Bldg., 125 Pioneer Street, Mandaluyong City.

Status of operations

The Company has a number of mineral properties that are in various stages of exploration and has participation in several petroleum projects in the Philippines. The ability of the Company to realize its deferred exploration cost depends on the success of its exploration activities and future development work proving the viability of its mining properties that can produce minerals in commercial quantities and the discovery of oil and gas that can be produced in commercial quantities, which cannot be determined at this stage.

The Company has incurred cumulative losses from operations resulting in a deficit amounting to P0.6 million as of March 31, 2017. These conditions indicate the existence of a material uncertainty which may cast significant doubt about the Company's ability to continue as going concern. However, Management is confident that with the renewed interest in mining and oil and gas industry and the continuing support of related parties, the going concern issue will be resolved favorably.

On January 18, 2013, the Board of Directors (BOD) approved the retirement of all its employees under its former policies as a result of the Company's change in management.

Basis of preparation

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared under the historical cost basis. The financial statements are presented in Philippine Peso, which is the Company's functional currency.

Statement of compliance

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Philippine Financial Reporting Standards (PFRS).

PFRS 9

This standard is effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 2015. It introduces new requirements on the classification and measurement of financial assets. It uses a single approach to determine whether a financial asset is measured at amortized cost or fair value, replacing many different rules in PAS 39, Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement. The approach in the new standard is based on how entity manages its financial instruments (its business model) and the contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial assets. The new standard also requires a single impairment method to be used, replacing the many different methods in PAS 39. The company expects significant impact on its financial statements when it adopts this standard.

The company has decided not to early adopt either PFRS 9(2009) or PFRS 9 (2010) for its financial reporting. The company continues to assess the impact of the new and amended accounting standard and interpretation effective subsequent to 2011 on its financial statements in the period of initial application. Additional disclosures required by the amendments will be included in the financial statements when the amendments are adopted.

Accounting Estimates and Assumptions

The key assumptions concerning the future and other key source of estimation uncertainty at the balance sheet date, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year:

Impairment of loans and receivables

The Group evaluates specific accounts where the Group has information that certain customers or third parties are unable to meet their financial obligations. Factors, such as the Group's length of relationship with the customers or other parties and the customers' or other parties' current credit status, are considered in determining the amount of impairment that will be recorded relating to trade and other receivables account. The allowance is re-evaluated and adjusted as additional information is received.

In addition to specific allowances against individually significant loans and receivables, the Group also makes a collective impairment allowance against exposures which, although not specifically identified as requiring a specific allowance, have a greater risk of default than when originally granted. This takes into consideration the credit risk characteristics such as customer type, geographical location, payment history, past due status and term.

Impairment of AFS financial assets

The Company treats AFS financial assets as impaired when there has been a significant or prolonged decline in fair value below its cost or where other objective evidence of impairment exists. The determination of what is "significant" or "prolonged" required judgment. In addition, the Company evaluates other factors, including normal volatility in share price for quoted equities and the future cash flows and the discount factors for unquoted securities.

Impairment of other current assets

The Company estimates the allowance for impairment of inventories included under the "Other current assets" account, based on the age of inventories. The amounts and timing of recorded expenses for any period would differ if different judgments or different estimates are made. An increase in the decline in value of inventories would increase recorded expenses and decrease current assets.

Estimating useful lives of property and equipment

The Company estimates the useful lives of property and equipment based on the period over which assets are expected to be available for use. The estimated useful lives of the property and equipment are reviewed periodically and are updated if expectations differ from previous estimates due to physical wear and tear, technical or commercial obsolescence and legal or other limits on the use of the assets. In addition, the estimation of the useful lives of property and equipment is based on internal technical evaluation and experience with similar assets. It is possible, however, that future results of operations could be materially affected by changes in the estimates brought about by changes in factors mentioned above. The amounts and timing of recorded expenses for any period would be affected by changes in these factors and circumstances.

Recoverability of deferred exploration costs

The Company assesses impairment on deferred exploration cost when facts and circumstances suggest that the carrying amount of the assets may exceed its recoverable amount.

Facts and circumstances that would require an impairment assessment as set forth in PFRS 6, Exploration for and Evaluation of Mineral Reserves, are as follows:

- the period for which the Company has the right to explore in the specific area has expired or will expire in the near future, and is not expected to be renewed;
- substantive expenditure on further exploration for and evaluation of mineral resources in the specific area is neither budgeted nor planned;
- exploration for and evaluation of mineral resources in the specific area have not led to the discovery of commercially variable quantities of mineral resources and the entity has decided to discontinue such activities in the specific area; and
- sufficient data exist to indicate that, although a development in the specific area is likely to proceed, the carrying amount of the exploration and evaluation asset is unlikely to be recovered in full from successful development of by sale.

The Company reviews the carrying values of its mineral property interests whenever events of changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying values may exceed their estimated net recoverable amounts.

Impairment of non-financial assets

The Company performs asset impairment review on its other current assets, investments and advances, property and equipment, and other noncurrent assets when certain impairment indicators are present. This requires the estimation of the asset's recoverable amount. Impairment losses, if any, are recognized in the statement of operations in those expense categories consistent with the function of the impaired asset. Changes in estimates and assumptions may result to additional provision for impairment.

Valuation of financial assets and financial liabilities

The Company carries certain financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value, which requires the use of accounting estimates and judgment. While significant components of fair value measurement were determined using verifiable evidence, the amount of changes in fair value would differ if the Company utilized a different valuation methodology. Any change in fair value of these financial assets and financial liabilities would affect the profit or loss and equity.

Estimating retirement benefits cost

The determination of the Company's obligation and cost for retirement benefits is dependent on the selection of certain assumptions used by actuaries in calculating such amounts. The assumed discount rates were determined using the market yields on Philippine government bonds with terms consistent with the expected employee benefit payout as of the balance sheet dates. The overall expected rate of return on assets is determined based on the market prices prevailing on that date, applicable to the period over which the obligation is to be settled. In accordance with PAS 16, actual results that differ from the Company's assumptions are accumulated and amortized over future periods and therefore, generally affect the Company's recognized expense and recorded obligation in such future periods. While management believes that its assumptions are the assumptions may materially affect the Company's pension and other retirement obligations.
